The College of Medical Radiation and Imaging Technologists of Ontario (CMRITO) welcomes your application for registration as a medical radiation and imaging technologist in the specialty of radiography, nuclear medicine, radiation therapy, magnetic resonance or diagnostic medical sonography.

You must hold a certificate of registration with the CMRITO in your specialty of medical radiation and imaging technology to be legally authorized to practise in your specialty in Ontario.

This application process applies to you if you already hold an out-of-province certificate of registration¹ granted by an out-of-province regulatory authority² that is equivalent to the certificate of registration issued by the CMRITO in the specialty for which you are applying. If you wish to apply for more than one specialty, you must complete a separate application for each specialty for which you are applying.

If you hold a current practising certificate of registration in one of the specialties of medical radiation and imaging technology as listed below and you would like to apply for registration with the CMRITO, you may be eligible for registration under the labour mobility provisions of the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991.

In order to be eligible for a certificate of registration, you must meet the requirements for registration, set out in the registration regulation made under the Medical Radiation and Imaging Technology Act, 2017 (MRIT Act).

The scope of practice of medical radiation and imaging technology, as defined under the MRIT Act, is the use of ionizing radiation, electromagnetism, soundwaves, and other prescribed forms of energy for the purposes of diagnostic and therapeutic procedures, the evaluation of images and data relating to the procedures and the assessment of an individual before, during and after the procedures.

Practice includes not only the delivery of clinical services, but also the functions of education, management, research and administration.

Further information about the application and registration process can be found in this application guide.

¹ “Out-of-province certificate of registration” means a certificate, licence or registration granted by an out-of-province regulatory authority which attests to the individual being qualified to practise the profession of medical radiation and imaging technology and authorizes the individual to practise the profession, use a title or designation relating to the profession or both.

² “Out-of-province regulatory authority” means a body that is authorized, under an Act of a province or territory of Canada that is a party to the Agreement on Internal Trade, other than Ontario, to grant an out-of-province certificate of registration.

Who can apply under the labour mobility provisions

Any individual, who currently holds an active certificate of registration with a regulatory authority in another province in one of the specialties listed below can apply under the labour mobility provisions.

Steps and timelines in the application and registration process

The first step is to create an online profile in the CMRITO Portal, gather the documents you need to support your online application, and complete and submit your application. CMRITO will communicate with you by email.

Below is an overview of the steps in the process.

Step	Activity
1	Review the information about the application process and documents you are required to provide.
2	Start your online application in the CMRITO Portal and complete the 'About Me' section. You can return at a later time to complete the rest of your application.
3	Complete the CMRITO Legislation Learning Package (jurisprudence course) - access will be available 24 hours after you start your application.
4	Complete your application, upload all the required documents, pay the application fee and submit your application to CMRITO for assessment.
5	CMRITO will review your application and will notify you whether your application is accepted or refused. If accepted, CMRITO will advise you about any further registration requirements including the amount of the registration fee.
6	Complete any remaining requirements to register including payment of the registration fee.
7	CMRITO registers you. You will receive confirmation that you have been registered. Your name and information will be posted on the public register.
8	Inform your employer that you are legally authorized to practise the profession. Start using the protected title "medical radiation and imaging technologist" and the term or abbreviation appropriate to your specialty and review your accountabilities as a regulated professional.

For your application to be complete, you are required to complete all steps in the online application process, provide all the required documentation and pay the application fee of $113.00 ($100.00 fee and $13.00 HST) by Visa and Mastercard through the secure CMRITO Portal.

CMRITO is not able to start the review process on incomplete applications. If you do not have all the documents when you start your application online, you may begin the application process and return to complete it at a later time. All draft applications will expire five years from the date they were started. Your application will not be processed until all the information is complete and you have paid the application fee.

Registration requirements

The registration requirements are set out in the Registration Regulation made under the MRIT Act and can be found here. The online application process prompts you to provide all the documents required to demonstrate that you meet the requirements for registration. When you have submitted your complete application, CMRITO will review it and determine whether or not you meet all the requirements for registration as set out in the Registration Regulation. You can expect the review process to take between one to seven business days.

If you do not meet all the requirements for registration your application will be reviewed by the Registration Committee of the CMRITO, in this case it may take between four to six months to process your application.

Required documents

You will be prompted to upload the documents listed below:

- Proof of name, date of birth, and citizenship can be provided using one of the following documents: your Canadian birth certificate, or proof of Canadian citizenship, or certificate of landing or permanent resident card, or work permit or valid Canadian passport - Required
- Name change: if the name on any of your documents is different from your current name, you must provide proof of a name change – Required if applicable
- Proof of completion of the CMRITO jurisprudence course (completed Certificate of Completion) - Required

You are not required to submit the original documents to the CMRITO. The CMRITO will contact you if original documents are required for validation and authentication.

You must request all out of province regulatory authorities where you are currently registered to send a certificate confirming that you hold an active certificate of registration in a specialty of medical radiation and imaging technology directly to the CMRITO by email at registration@cmrito.org.

Fees

There are two fees for this process – the application fee and the registration fee.

The application fee is a one-time fee of $113.00 ($100.00 fee, $13.00 HST) and is paid at the time you submit your application.

The registration fee is the final step to become registered, if your application meets all the requirements set out in the registration regulation. It is an annual fee of $531.10 ($470.00 fee, $61.10 HST). The annual registration fee is due on a registrant's birthday each year. Registrants who are registered in more than one specialty pay only one annual fee.

When you first become registered, the registration fee is prorated from the month you become registered to your birthday. For example, if your birthday is in April and you become registered in November 2024, you would pay $221.29 ($195.83 fee, $25.46 HST) for the six-month period November 2024 – April 2025, and then the annual fee in April 2025, for the period to April 2026. You can use the fee calculator tool on the website to find your registration fee.

The fees are set by the CMRITO Council in the CMRITO by-laws and are non-refundable.

This certificate must establish, to the satisfaction of the CMRITO, that you are in good standing in that jurisdiction.

You must contact the out-of-province regulatory authority of each jurisdiction in which you currently hold an out-of-province certificate of registration to request that an out-of-province certificate, be sent directly to the College of Medical Radiation and Imaging Technologists of Ontario at registration@cmrito.org.

You are required to provide your work history as a medical radiation and imaging technologist in your specialty for the past five years by entering the information in the space provided.

If it has been more than five years since you completed your program or were last employed as a medical radiation and imaging technologist in your specialty, contact registration@cmrito.org for further information.

1. will practise the profession with decency, honesty and integrity, and in accordance with the law,
2. do not have any physical or mental condition or disorder that could affect your ability to practise the profession in a safe manner, and
3. will display an appropriate professional attitude.

You will be required to answer the questions in this section by indicating the true answer. Knowingly giving a false answer to any question is grounds for refusal of the application by the Registration Committee and is an offence under s. 92 of the Health Professions Procedural Code (Schedule 2 of the Regulated Health Professions Act, 1991). Any false or misleading statement, representation or declaration in or in connection with your application, by commission or omission, is cause for revocation of any certificate of registration that may be issued to you by the CMRITO.

If you answer “Yes” to any of the questions, you must provide a detailed explanation in the space provided in the online page and upload all relevant documents in your possession. If you do not have these documents at the time you submit your application, you will need to email them to registration@cmrito.org. If you answer “No” to any of the questions at the time of application, but the circumstances change before you are issued a certificate of registration, you must immediately inform the CMRITO of the change of circumstances.

The questions you are required to answer are as follows:

1. Have you been found guilty of a criminal offence or of any offence related to the regulation of the practice of the profession?

An offence is a breach of law that is prosecuted in a court. This includes all findings or admissions of guilt, including but not limited to offences under the Criminal Code, the Health Insurance Act and other federal and provincial laws. You are required to report all findings or admissions of guilt, including those made in other jurisdictions and those for which you may have received a pardon.

Note: If you answer “Yes” to question 6, you must provide a detailed explanation and arrange for your treating physician(s) and/or other health professional(s) to send directly to the CMRITO at registration@cmrito.org a report on your condition or disorder setting out your diagnosis, course of treatment, current health and prognosis. Where appropriate, this report should indicate any accommodation(s) that your physician and/or health professional believes is necessary in order for you to practise in a safe manner.

7. Is there any event, circumstance, condition or matter not disclosed in your answers to the preceding questions in respect of your character, conduct, competence or capacity that is relevant to the requirement set out above regarding your past and present conduct (refer to paragraphs 1, 2, and 3 above)?
